

Ancestral Healing Intensive, Talks, & Sessions

Wed-Sun, Sept 7-11 in Boulder, CO

Daniel Foor, Ph.D. / ancestralmedicine.org

Everyone has loving and wise ancestors, and by reaching out for their support we access tremendous vitality for personal and family healing. Ancestor work encourages family healing, better self-esteem and greater clarity about our destiny, relationships, and work in the world.

The ancestors also play a critically important role in social justice work and mending our disconnections from the rest of the natural world. You're warmly invited to join for five days of talks, personal sessions, and a three-day ancestral healing intensive in the Boulder, Colorado area.

Intro to Ancestral and Family Healing. Attendees will learn a basic framework to safely and directly engage family and older lineage ancestors as sources of guidance, healing, and spiritual inspiration. Wed, Sept 7th, 6:30-8pm, Caritas Center, 5723 Arapahoe Ave, Suite 1A, Boulder.

Rights of Nature, Social Justice, and 21st Century Animism. We'll explore intersections between earth spirituality, social justice work, and the critical mission of the rights of nature movement. Thurs, Sept 8th, 6:30-8pm, Blue Cloud Farms, 6069 Prospect Rd, Longmont.

Personal Healing & Mentorship. Individual or family sessions emphasize you having the skills and support to relating at depth with your own ancestors and guidance. See the sessions page of my site for details. 10am-5pm, Wed & Thurs, Sept 7 & 8. Private residence, Boulder.

Ancestral and Family Healing Intensive. In this immersion training in ancestral repair work participants will learn to relate safely with family ancestors (older helpful guides and the troubled dead). Fri-Sun, Sept 9-11, 10am-5pm, Elk Meadow Sanctuary, Nederland.

Talks are open to all, Wed is by donation ($20 suggested, no one turned away), Thurs is free, no need to confirm in advance. Cost for the three-day intensive is $400 (flexibility as needed and option to attend day one only). For details on each offering see the calendar of events on my site. For questions or to register, contact Daniel at: ancestralmedicine@gmail.com or (828) 767-9234.

Daniel Foor, PhD, is a teacher of practical animism who specializes in ancestral healing and helping folks to come back into relationship with the rest of the natural world. He is the author of the upcoming book Ancestral Medicine: Rituals for Personal and Family Healing, and he guides ancestor-focused trainings and personal healing/mentorship work throughout the United States. Daniel is also an initiate in the Ifá/Òrìṣà tradition of Yorùbá-speaking West Africa. For free resources and more info on his offerings visit: www.ancestralmedicine.org
